Create a bathroom water experience in style Bruno Sacco's HANSASTELE introduces luxury to the modern bathroom

NORCROSS, Ga. (April 2009) – Bruno Sacco continues to advance technology with uncompromising design in the bathroom with the creation of the HANSASTELE. Due to enormous success, Hansa has expanded its finish portfolio to include brushed nickel. Sacco, the former director of design for Mercedes-Benz, is also the mastermind behind Hansa's multi-award winning HANSAMURANO and HANSACANYON.

"Designer Bruno Sacco has developed another Hansa masterpiece," says Chris Marshall, President and CEO of Hansa and KWC AMERICA. "The sleek joy-stick controlling the laminar flow allows consumers to experience water in style."

The basic cylindrical body of the HANSASTELE represents a charming contrast to the distinctively angular water spout. A uniquely designed jet forms a wide and soft surge, creating a pure and natural water flow effect. Whether in the shower or bathroom, the HANSASTELE offers unparalleled style.

The HANSASTELA bathroom collection includes a single basin or wall mounted lever mixer, tub spout, shower head and accessories.
